

Liability Of Seepage Placed On Districts

High Court Holds Farmer Can Recover Land, Crop Damages

The state Supreme court Friday upheld the Lincoln county district court decision in favor of George W. Smith in his suit for $9,000 damages against the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation district for seepage of lands and crops.

The high court ruled that the irrigation district is liable for seepage when and if it accrues and such damages must be recovered in one action.

"The measure or damages for any injury thus caused to the land is the difference in the fair market value thereof if any, immediately before and immediately after the seepage, taking into consideration all the uses to which the land was put and for which it was reasonably adaptable," the court said in the ruling.

In addition thereto recovery may be had for damages to any annual crops growing thereon at the time," the ruling stated.

In answer to the principal question raised by the appeal, concerning the sufficiency of the evidence to sustain the verdict, the court said, "It should be remembered that if the evidence is in conflict and such that reasonable minds can draw different conclusions therefrom then it presents a question for a jury's determination."

Appeal Denied In Hall County Suit

The Supreme court denied the appeal of defendant Verne L. Dalgas from a Hall county damage suit arising from an auto accident in Grand Island.

The court held that "when two motorists approach an intersection at or about the same time, the driver approaching from the right has the right-of-way."

However, the court continued, "If the situation is such as to indicate to the mind of an ordinarily careful and prudent person in his position that to proceed would probably result in a collision, then he should exercise ordinary care to prevent an accident, even to the extent of waiving his right-of-way."

MILITARY RITES IN CHICAGO FOR SAMUEL KAROFF

The body of Pfc. Samuel Karoff, husband of Mrs. Sally Karoff, 2028 M street, has been returned to the United States for funeral services and burial.

Military rites for Pfc. Karoff, who was killed in action on Okinawa, April 3, 1945, will be held Wednesday, at the Memorial Park chapel in Chicago, Ill. Burial will be in Westlawn cemetery there.

Enlisting in the army in September, 1941, Pfc. Karoff took part in the battles on Attu, Marshall Islands, Leyte, the Philippines and Okinawa. He had received the Presidential citation.

Surviving besides his wife, the former Sally Wolff, are one daughter, Judy Dianne, Lincoln; mother, Mrs. Kate Karofsky; five brothers, Edward, Louis, Joe, Sydney and Otis, and three sisters, Anne, Dora and Cele, all of Chicago.

with the Douglas county district court today, that there was no liability on the part of Burns, Potter and Company to Marion Tyler O'Connor in connection with its handling of investments for her during the depression years.

Mrs. O'Connor, daughter of the late C. R. Tyler, Council Bluffs, Ia., miller, alleged in her suit that she had turned over $79,722 to Burns, Potter and Company for investment between February, 1930 and January, 1932.

The total amount for which she requested accounting was $140,394, including interest and dividends she claimed she should have had.

Offsetting these claims were $47,719 which she admitted receiving for living expenses during the period, and $24,311 invested in Union Pacific railroad stock.

She sought judgment for an alleged balance of $67,002.

The Supreme court said: "Economic conditions were bad, especially in 1929 and 1937 when stock-market losses were the greatest in the history of the country. While stock-market crashes and economic depressions do not excuse negligence and bad faith, they do constitute conditions to be considered in determining whether or not improper conduct has been established."

"x x x the evidence does not establish that the agent failed to act on good faith or to exercise reasonable skill, care and diligence, x x x under these findings, liability on the part of the defendants (Burns, Potter and company) does not exist."

WOMEN'S GROUP TOLD OF SWEDEN'S FREE PRESS

Evidence was presented Friday morning at the Nebraska Press association convention that the old bugaboo of the newspaper world being strictly a "man's world" is dead.

For the third year, the Nebraska Women's Press club held its annual breakfast at the Lincoln hotel. And three of the twenty-six members present are newspaper owners. A fourth, Mrs. Chattie Westensius Swalley, publisher of The Stromburg Headlight, was unable to attend. The other members are also actively engaged in newspaper work.

"Back-Shop Trouble." The three women publishers of community papers, are Miss Margaret Stukel of The Pender Times, Miss Shirley Kimball of The Bancroft Blade, and Miss Susan Black of The Hickman Enterprise.

Some trouble is experienced in the "back-shop," Miss Stukel said.

Women aren't as mechanically inclined as men, she added. But consensus of the group was that women do "just as good a job" as men in publishing a newspaper—and sometimes better.

Mrs. Gustavson Speaker. Formed in March of 1946, the association had a 1948 membership of 35. Mrs. Charles Kuhle of Lincoln was the first president. Her husband was publisher of The Leigh World. The president today is Mrs. F. H. Price of The Newman Grove Reporter. The officers are elected for two-year terms.

Mrs. R. G. Gustavson, wife of Chancellor Gustavson, spoke on Sweden at the breakfast meeting. She accompanied her husband on a trip to Sweden in 1948.

The press in Sweden is absolutely free, she said. At the time of Count Folke Bernadotte's death, the newspapers showed no embitterment towards those who had perpetrated the crime, she added.

No Racial Hatred. The newspapers expressed a desire to apprehend the assassins, she said, but there was no sign of racial hatred.

Sweden has developed a self-sustaining economy that takes "very good care" of its people, she said. There are no slums in Sweden, she added, and one never sees a ragged child or a neglected person.

Referring to the north Atlantic security pact, Mrs. Gustavson said that although Sweden is "very sympathetic" towards the American way of life, they felt they could not join the pact because this would bring Russian forces close to the Swedish border and might even precipitate a war.

Mrs. Price presided at the meeting.

Keays Heads Past Presidents Nebraska Press

Parke F. Keays of The Custer County Chief Friday was elected chairman of the Past Presidents club of the Nebraska Press association at a breakfast meeting at the Lincoln hotel.

Keays, who succeeds W. H. Plourd of The Nance County Journal, was president of the association in 1942.

Other past presidents, the paper they edited, and the year they were president attending the breakfast were:

Guy Ludi, Wahoo newspapers, 1948; William H. Smith, Seward Independent, 1947; E. C. Leggett, Ord Quix, 1946; A. C. Gardner, Ord News, 1945; Ralph Cox, Arapahoe Mirror, 1940; Dwight Griswold, Gordon Journal, 1931; Fred H. Price, Newman Grove Reporter, 1926.

Charles H. Kuhle, Leigh World, 1928; Edgar Howard, Papillion Times, 1898. Aach of the presidents gave a few remarks. Howard, now editor of The Columbus Telegraph, paid a tribute to the late Will Maupin, who died recently. Maupin was president of the association in 1900.

to take some action against the postal rate increase legislation now pending before a committee of the house of representatives. He stated that the rate raise would work a hardship on all newspaper publishers and urged that preparation be made to act against the bill if it is reported out on the floor of congress.

After the public affairs luncheon at the chamber, members attending the convention heard an address by Houston Waring, editor of the Littleton, Colo., Independent on the topic, "Can Newspapers Take It?"

Also scheduled for the afternoon session is a report by the nominating committee and election of officers, a report from the University of Nebraska school of journalism, and a panel discussion on the topic, "Future Employees—How Many and Where From?"

Banquet Tonight. Friday night association members will attend the annual banquet, at which James D. Arrington, Collins, Miss., president of the Mississippi Press association, will speak on the topic, "Twenty-five Years Behind a Typewriter."

The convention is scheduled to adjourn after the installation of new officers Saturday morning.

LB 496, eliminates requirement of 10 pupils in normal training classes. LB 528, provides grazing land funds go to county libraries for rural schools. Re-allocation of the small amount of funds received was termed too expensive for the schools.

ATLANTIC TREATY

defenses of the whole huge region of North America, western Europe and the north Atlantic.

An attack against the territory, occupation forces, ships, planes or where in this vast area would be the signal for all the powers to spring into action, according to the treaty's provisions.

The key provision of the pact is Article 5, which says: "The parties agree that an armed attack against one or more of them in Europe or North America shall be considered an attack against them all; and consequently they agree that, if such an armed attack occurs, each of them, in exercise of the right of individual or collective self-defense recognized by Article 51 of the charter of the United Nations, will assist the party or parties so attacked by taking forthwith, individually and in concert with the other parties, such action as it deems necessary, including the use of armed force, to restore and maintain the security of the north Atlantic area."

Blunt Notice to Soviet. "Any such armed attack and all measures taken as a result thereof shall immediately be reported to the U. N. security council. Such measures shall be terminated when the security council has taken the measures necessary to restore and maintain international peace and security."

That is the long-debated section which, although stopping short of an automatic pledge to go to war, is designed to put Russia on notice that an attack on any of the western powers would instantly be met by all of them.

The "parties" referred to in the pact are the nations signing it. These will definitely include the United States, Canada, Norway, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. In addition Iceland, Portugal, Denmark and Italy have been invited and are expected to sign.

Senate Must Approve.

After next month's signing, the treaty will come into actual force when a majority of the governments have ratified it. But the majority must include America, Britain, Canada, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Before the United States can ratify, the senate must approve the pact by a two-thirds majority.

Even while the senate is debating the treaty, President Truman is expected to send to congress a billion dollar program to rearm the treaty nations of western Europe and thus give added meaning to the all-important article five.

Other Provisions.

1.—The north Atlantic council is to be "so organized as to be able to meet promptly at any time." Presumably it would be called into session as soon as an emergency threatened.

2. The defense committee "shall recommend measures" for defense.

Cathedral High Farewell Is Attended By More Than 1,000

More than 1,000 students, alumni and friends paid tribute to the 60-year-old Cathedral high school, Thirteenth and M, at a St. Patrick party Thursday night.

The new school is located on the site of the remodeled Carlos apartment building, Fourteenth and K.

Desks in the old school were removed to make room for dances, games and concessions. A "spook room" for old graduates of the school displayed pictures of classes from 1910 to 1948.

Get Souvenirs.

Door knobs and other fixtures of the building went to alumni as souvenirs.

Among the old timers at the party was Msgr. D. B. O'Connor, former Lincoln priest now at Bellwood, who as a student in 1889 when Cathedral school, then St. Theresa's, was first completed, recalled the opening dedication ceremony. Bishop Thomas Bonacum, first bishop of the Lincoln diocese officiated.

In those days Lincoln was a young city and the old state capitol and the school were outstanding landmarks in their section of the city.

Msgr. C. J. Riordan, pastor of St.

Mary's Cathedral was also a guest Thursday night.

Cakes donated by members of the parish were awarded as prizes in a cake-walk and surplus cakes were auctioned.

"Blarney Stone."

The Young People's club held a dance and offered guests a chance to kiss the "Blarney Stone" at risk of being pelted.

Teen-agers held their own dance in another section of the school with movies and a fish pond provided for the younger children.

Jack Cunningham was general chairman of the party. Other committee members were Mrs. H. R. Dwyer, Miss Kay Kalin, Gene McDonald, Bill Giffin, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stein, Mike Burke, Harold Frappa, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Admire, Mrs. Harriet G. Weaver, Mrs. John Gourley, and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Staibbrook.

Clem Gaughan Candidate For City Council

Opposes New Taxes For Home Owners

Clem Gaughan, local attorney, filed petitions Friday to become a candidate for the city council. The petitions carried 731 signatures.

Gaughan announced that he is opposed to "any new taxation by the city council which would throw the burden on home owners." It is necessary to cut out all waste, if any, in the city government.

He went on record as being "vitaly interested" in all problems involving veterans. He is in favor of encouraging new industries in Lincoln. Gaughan also listed immediate repair and constant upkeep of city streets as one thing he would work for if elected.

Gaughan, who was born and reared in Lincoln, attended Nebraska Wesleyan university and the University of Nebraska, graduating from the University of Nebraska law school. He served in the army 34 months, the last two years as chief of the legal branch for the western district air material command, a district of 15 states.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaughan and their two daughters live at 2335 Cedar.

Auto Killing Farnam Pair Struck Bridge After Going Into Ditch

GOTHENBURG, Neb.—(AP)—Nebraska's 1949 traffic death toll stood at 27 today with the death of a Farnam, Neb., couple as the result of a crash near here Tuesday.

Harry F. Stewart, 61, and his wife, 59, died in a hospital here Wednesday night of injuries received in an accident four miles south of here on highway 47.

The state safety patrol said the Stewart car left the road, went into a ditch and hit a bridge which crosses the ditch from the road to a farmyard.

lets will see the west firmly arrayed in defensive formation and so take a "live and let live" attitude and undertake negotiations for a truce in the cold war.

For the present, however, Russia has shown no such inclination.

Communist leaders in the non-communist countries have generally declared that if a conflict comes they will line up with the Soviet union.

President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson already have made clear that the treaty is but the first of various major foreign policy moves.

The next one is the arms assistance program for western Europe.

A Lacking Or ... ?

There appear to be two groups in congress today.

One, an exceedingly vocal one, apparently believes that the most important business confronting congress is to give Harry Truman one hell of a whaling. Everything they say adds up to the idea that nothing at hand is quite so urgent as to show the president where to get off.

There is another group, a group not outlined entirely by party label but including a sound, intellectually qualified republican leadership that sees it differently. It senses that all these days of talk contribute nothing; that the filibuster in itself can become an instrument of torture in a free country. They understand there is more to America than merely obstruction.

Senator Bob Taft, of Ohio, Thursday said he thought important features of the civil rights legislation can be put through the senate under the GOP-Dixie compromise on a debate-curling rule. Mr. Taft would have been in a stronger position, a more logical position if he had taken his place alongside Senator Morse of Oregon. But even in upholding the GOP-Dixie compromise he did perform a service when he directed the attention of his colleagues to the main business for which they are in Washington, not endless days of squabbling or politicking, but meeting the real matters which concern America.

Senator Taft may be a little bit on the side of over-optimism when he gets down directly to the issue of a federal anti-lynching law, to legislation outlawing the poll tax, one relating to the right to live and the other the right to vote, but his feet, nevertheless, are pounding in the right direction. Contrast his statement with the one that came the same day by House Republican Leader Joe Martin.

Lincoln's School Patrol

The days are getting longer, and spring is just around the corner and not too far around, we hope. There was good news contained in the announcement that the first "pilot" school safety patrol will go on duty next Monday at the Saratoga school, when 28 sixth grade boys and girls, togged out in white Sam Brown belts and red "stop" flags will take up guard duty to protect youngsters going to and from school. It comes at a season of the year when the outdoors beckons joyously to youngsters and when the hazards of traffic are great.

Lincoln, 10 Years Hence

NOTE: It was a woman's voice on the phone. "Wherever I have happened to listen to talk recently," she said, "I find people deeply interested in the proposed city-county building, in the construction of the new Lincoln city auditorium, and in the development of the Rogers tract."

Nothing could be more encouraging. It suggests that in Lincoln people, men and women, are discussing steps that mean a great deal in this community's future life. They are steps that will put a mark upon the skyline, a decade hence, contribute to appreciation or criticism of one of the 48 capitals ten years from now, and finally furnish the answer to the continuing development of a city of more than 100,000 people. There should be discussion, exchange of views, wide-spread thought on these matters. It isn't important that everyone see exactly eye to eye, but it is most vital that there shall be directed a favorable soil for understanding.

It was only a relatively few years ago that the city of Lincoln was given the valuable tract of ground which now is Pioneer's park. It had no trees except those which fringed the creek winding through a section of it, no roads, no artificial lakes, nothing but rolling hills and the valleys. It is a beautiful spot today visited by thousands each year, a place of relaxation and enjoyment, a spot that can be treasured by the citizens of Lincoln, one of the finest parks in this section of the United States.

OF Fort Robinson

There is something to be said for the continuation of Fort Robinson as a remount station. A program, embodying a fight against livestock disease, and improved livestock breeding, is tailor-made for the facilities contained within the grounds of Fort Robinson. It has been a landmark ever since its establishment in years of Indian warfare. It nestles in the picturesque valley of the White river, until the drouth of the '30s; along with its grass it contained growths of aspen, pine and white birch. Many of the trees died, but it still is admirably equipped for the purpose outlined. Year after year the army design of abandoning interior installations becomes more apparent.

Emphasis Upon Peaceful Means

There are 14 articles of a declaration of faith and purpose in the North Atlantic pact, the terms of which were given to the American people Friday, simultaneously with the peoples of other participating nations, with a brief preamble of 99 words. In all, the pact requires 1,040 words to express the one best hope of peace and security in our times for peoples craving the sunlight of human freedom, and willing to fight for it.

Reflect upon the preamble of which these words constitute the essence:

"The parties to this treaty reaffirm their faith in the purposes and principles of the charter of the United Nations and their desire to live in peace with all peoples and all governments. They are determined to safeguard the freedom, common heritage and civilization of their peoples, founded on the principles of a democracy, individual liberty and rule of law."

Those are thrilling words, words which back through more than 10 centuries, never have failed to light the eyes of men who aspire to individual dignity and common understanding. They are the words, which in everyday life, have given meaning to life, freedom to the mind, and noble aspirations to the soul. They are the words which have wrought miracles on this earth, given shape to civilization, and culture to the primitive savage, who painfully emerged from a cave existence.

Reflect upon the emphasis given to peace as set forth in the first article of this historic document:

"The parties undertake, as set forth in the charter of the United Nations, to settle any international disputes in which they may be involved by peaceful means in such a manner that international peace and security and justice, are not endangered, and to refrain in their international relations from the threat or use of force in any manner inconsistent with the purposes of the United Nations."

In short this is a declaration by peoples who govern themselves of their own peaceful purposes. And to still further that emphasis Article 2 specifically states the parties will contribute toward "the further development of peaceful and friendly international relations by strengthening their free institutions, by bringing about a better understanding of the principles upon which these institutions are founded, and by promoting conditions of stability and well-being."

Which, is to say in simple language that a desire for peace, shared by a sufficient number of people, actually begets peace—that war is a state of mind existing among men—and that war is the fruit of hunger and poverty.

A complete text of the treaty appears in this issue of The Lincoln Star on page 8. It is "must" reading for every American man or woman. It should be read carefully, thoughtfully, against the common knowledge of every living soul of those circumstances which have brought about this remarkable expression of purpose, conditions

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

NOTE: On March 8 the Washington Merry-Go-Round column predicted that Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia would join the republicans on the Armed Services committee in voting against ex-Senator Mon Wallgren of Washington to be chairman of the National Securities Resources board. In reporting this, Drew Pearson also said that Dixie democrats were planning to gang up with the republicans to rebuff Truman.

That day Senator Cain of Washington denounced Pearson from the senate floor for inaccurately reporting the situation. But exactly one week later, Pearson's diagnosis and prediction turned out to be exactly right. Senator Byrd did vote against Wallgren and his nomination was blocked.

WASHINGTON — If a grand jury ever gets to the bottom of the New York wire-tapping scandal, it will find that it was about lyzed France in November 1947, Forrestal asked his young friend to raise money to help break the strike. Ryan did so. He passed the hat among New York friends, came back with $25,000.

This was distributed among certain French communist leaders. And, though other factors helped, the French strikes evaporated.

Later, in February 1948, Italy was in the throes of her first real election in two decades. The communists were bent on winning. Again Secretary Forrestal came to his young friend, told him he was broke and asked that he raise money for the Italian political campaign.

Ryan called a meeting of New York friends. A Forrestal representative described the situation in Italy. Seventy thousand dollars was raised—most of it in $5,000 lots. Of the $70,000, a total of $30,000 went direct to Premier De Gasperi as a political slush fund.

Afterward Forrestal arranged with the U. S. treasury to permit contributors to make charity income-tax deductions. But Ryan and most of his friends declined. They wrote it off as a contribution to their country.

Young Mr. Ryan is now head of a clean-up conglomerate of Park avenues, ousted Tammanyites and real reformers. In the latter category are Adolf Berle, former assistant secretary of state, and William Chadbourne, Wall street attorney. In the former category is John Jacob Astor. And in the ex-Tammany category are Clarence Neal, the Negro Harlem leader whom Mayor O'Dwyer kicked out of Tammany, and James Brangan, head of the National Democratic club, which O'Dwyer has called "political cesspool," but who was photographed with Truman's arm around him.

Irish aristocrat Ryan has now taken on an Irish-born, ex-Brooklyn cop who, as mayor of New York, has already battled Tammany and who has a forthright record for honesty in city management. O'Dwyer has an easy-going manner, and acts as if everyone was his friend. But he earned his spurs tackling the Christian Front in Brooklyn, later as investigator of corruption in the army, and he isn't going to lose those spurs now.

When Ryan's group resorted to wire tapping to try to ensnare O'Dwyer, they forgot that the gastapo invasion of privacy under Hitler and Mussolini was one reason Ryan wore a uniform in the recent war. Here again, perhaps, they were taking a cue from Ryan's old friend, Forrestal. For, during the Forrestal regime, they tapped the wires of Washington newsmen and public officials with wanton abandon.

Or perhaps they were following the cue of Ryan's old boss, Mayor La Guardia, who also set bad examples by indiscriminate wire tapping (though Tom Dewey wasn't far behind him).

At any rate, when Mayor O'Dwyer finally broke up the (Continued on Page Eight)

WASHINGTON CALLING

KEY WEST, Fla.—To charge President Truman with deliberately pushing the country into socialism, as some of his opponents are now doing, is to ignore the fact of his background and experience. The farm, the small town, the city political machine — these conditioned him and they have nothing to do with socialism.

The only kind of socialism he experienced is the fact of his background and experience. The farm, the small town, the city political machine — these conditioned him and they have nothing to do with socialism.

Those who argue for the wide-spread extension of federal security programs seem to assume that the pattern here of social insurance can parallel that of Great Britain. But regardless of whether this is desirable—I am not arguing that—it is doubtful that it would follow that line.

Britain is a small island with a homogeneous population. Years of education in the trade unions and other organizations have brought a wide understanding of the disciplines as well as the benefits of social welfare programs.

Let's face the facts. The cancer of graft fattening on mis-government is such that it threatens to undermine even the ordinary functions of local administration in this country.

The California commission on organized crime has announced after a careful and thorough study that the slot-machine syndicate is spending at least $400,000,000 a year for "bribery and corruption of public officials." That statement from a reputable and serious body is terrifying.

The Dwight Green machine in Illinois is reputed to have taken millions in graft, most of the individuals who pocketed it calmly ignoring the federal income tax laws. That was probably the chief reason why Illinois voters turned to the democrats with such huge majorities.

In my opinion this is one of the major weaknesses of the Truman administration today. There are powers of the federal government that can be turned to cleaning up the graft and cracking down on the grafters. Since the resignation of the late Elmer Irey as head of intelligence in the bureau of internal revenue scarcely a single large tax violator has been caught or convicted.

There is too much complacency in Washington; the easy assumption that new laws will cure old evils. Social security is a recognized function of modern government. But that is something quite different from the handout whether by a boss or by a handout system enacted into law.

(Copyright, 1949, by U. Feat. Synd., Inc.)

It implies a high degree of administrative capacity from the top down. Perhaps even more important, it implies a fairly literate citizenship; a people who will accept the limitations and abide by the rules in order that the professed goal of greater health benefits for all may be attained.

But whether in this phase of our political development we have that capacity is the question that should not be ignored. There is no use putting in a welfare system that looks beautiful on paper if in practice it is unworkable or nearly unworkable.

In certain southern states up to 60 per cent of all aged persons are receiving pensions out of state and federal subsidies. That is a far higher proportion than could be justified by any valid system.

Here is the danger. We shall set not the social welfare state that both proponents and opponents talk about so glibly. Instead we shall get an obviously inefficient reassuring sentiments. May we hope and endeavor in a small way to follow such philosophy and leadership!

How higher standards lead to bigger opportunities in Army careers!

For qualified men there is greater opportunity in an Army career now than ever before. Increased selectivity now means more and better opportunities to come for those men who can make the grade on entrance requirements.

Did you know that in 1948, 191,910 civilians selected Army careers and that more than 75,000 soldiers re-enlisted last year? Here are some good reasons why:

1. Unlimited advancement. There's a premium on performance in the new career Army, a new system of rewards and promotions based on your initiative and ability.

2. World's greatest schooling system. Start fast in your chosen specialty. More than 200 courses to train men to experts' status.

3. World-wide pooling of top grade vacancies. Automatic advances in lower grades and wide open opportunities at the top. No "ruts" in the new career Army.

Can You Make the Grade in the U. S. Army?

If you can now is the time to sign up and be somebody among the best in the land. Have a talk with your local recruiting officer about what these higher standards are and how they can mean bigger and better opportunities for you in an Army career.

Seward Manufacturer Tells Need Of State Trade School

... Solons Hear "Praise" For Milford Institution

BY ARCH DONOVAN.
Members of the legislature spent Thursday afternoon on an inspection tour of the state trade school at Milford. They were guests at dinner of the Milford chamber of commerce served at the school by the American Legion auxiliary.

The school, launched in 1941, has never had opportunity to serve as intended as a training place for Nebraska youths preparing for various trades common to the state. Also from its inception, it has devoted its efforts aiding the pre-war, war and post-war efforts of the national government.

Valuable Plant.
As a result, financing of operation and the building up of both buildings and equipment has come largely from the federal government. With G. I. training drawing to a close, the legislators found they possessed a school plant worth many times the amount the state has expended.

In addition, they were told of the hundreds of youths trained at the school now businessmen over the state or employed at their trade by others. Typical of things heard were remarks of Ben Hughes of Seward, who took the occasion to express thanks to the school for aid during the recent flood.

The Seward business man told of the hundreds of electric motors in the Hughes Bros. manufacturing plant covered by two feet of water. About 40 of the students in training for mechanical trades went to their aid immediately and operations were resumed with minimum loss of time.

"We cannot praise or thank the school too highly," Hughes said. "We would have been in a hopeless fix without their help."

"Are you lobbying?" laughed one of the senators. "You bet I am," Hughes responded, "and it is in behalf of the taxpayer. You can't afford not to raise the budget here."

In brief, but serious vein, the Seward manufacturer told the legislators that he had employed a number of graduates of the school, found them all satisfactory, industrious and competent mechanics that were of the type needed by all Nebraska industry.

Students Employed.
Students' hours were adjusted to permit the senators to see the various trades being taught on practical industrial jobs with modern tools and equipment of the type needed by industry. Expressions of surprise were heard on every hand from the veterans at the growth of the school since they had last visited it.

Particular interest was expressed in the efforts to provide training suitable to the needs of the youth who would return to his home city or rural community.

Chief reason for the visit is the fact that the legislature will have to determine whether the school is to be continued with state aid to permit tuition fees to be kept low enough for average high school graduates to attend, as is the case with state colleges.

If the school is not given this aid, tuition fees to meet the operation cost will be such that many desiring vocational education will be barred, the senators were told. Interest was such that few of the visitors succeeded in visiting all of the classes. Probably on no other visit have the senators asked as many questions.

Supt. Welsh Praised.
The 250 students were found busy with auto mechanics, auto body and fender repair, cabinet making, carpentry, diesel motors, industrial electricity, machine shop practice, pattern making, radio and electronics, refrigeration and air conditioning, sheet metal, shoe repair, tool and die making, watchmaking, welding and farm mechanics.

Supt. Lowell Welsh was highly praised both by the senators and members of the Milford chamber of commerce for his administration of the school technically and its growth at minimum cost. The school operates under the state board of vocational education, of which G. F. Liebenfelder is director.

Dutch Show Interest In "Tongue Tests"
By N. U. Professor
The University of Nebraska is widely known, but the news which travels farthest is on the humorous side.

This was evidenced recently when Co Timmers, N.U. student from Skiedam, in the Netherlands, received from his parents a copy of a Dutch weekly newspaper which mentions Professor D. D. Whitney and his research in use of the human tongue.

The paper is the "Elseviers Weekblad," a nationwide, pro-U.S. publication in the Netherlands.

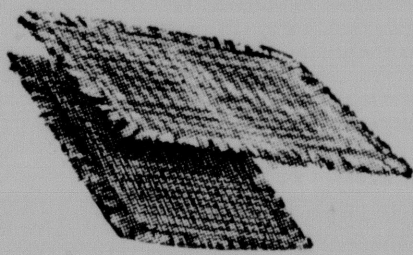

The item, as translated by Timmers: "Prof. D. D. Whitney of the University of Nebraska likes to know if the skillfulness to give different shapes to the tongue is a question of heredity or exercise. Students who are invited to put out the tongue at Prof. Whitney are paid $5 per time per tongue for this activity."

Hear Band Members—Two small groups from the University of Nebraska band presented numbers Thursday noon for the members of the Co-op club at the meeting at the chamber of commerce.

Rent Bill Is Given Priority

Control Measure Leaves 'Home Rule' To States' Decision

WASHINGTON—(INS)—A battered administration leadership gave senate priority today to a rent control extension bill which Democratic National Chairman McGrath said should be "called by its proper name—rent decontrol."

"States' rights" republicans were more dissatisfied with the 10 per cent maximum rent boost bill than were democratic leaders who put it down for opening debate Monday.

Majority Leader Lucas (D-Ill.) announced that the measure will be made the unfinished business of the senate today and formally come under consideration the first of next week.

"Has Loopholes."

It was the first major bill scheduled to emerge from the log-jam piled up by the 16-day battle over the anti-filibuster rule. Behind it are the foreign aid, reciprocal trade, housing, and Taft-Hartley repeal bills—all ready for senate action.

The bill reported by the senate banking committee last night was regarded by rent control proponents as more acceptable than that passed by the house this week. It provides for a 12-to-15 month extension.

Sen. Myers (D-Pa.), majority whip of the senate, said it was "a much better bill than the house passed," but added it has loopholes in it.

States May Take Over.

The measure makes it possible for states to take over rent control from the federal government and to decontrol by areas or communities within states when done by state law.

It permits up to 10 per cent in new rent increases, half of which would hit most tenants in the country.

A tenant who has received no rent increase since June 30, 1947, would be liable for a 5 per cent boost on Oct. 1, 1949 and another 5 per cent boost on April 1, 1950. But the total increase imposed on a tenant since 1947 could not exceed 15 per cent.

Goldwyn, Mary Pickford Battle Over Property

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—Two pioneer film producers—Mary Pickford and Samuel Goldwyn—battled in Superior court today over ownership of the United Artists Studio.

The studio is a highly valuable 18 acres on which are located more than $1,500,000 in sound stages, other buildings and equipment.

The suit is an involved affair that is expected to last for weeks. Goldwyn and corporations he controls are suing for partition of the property.

Breached Lease.

Miss Pickford has countered with a claim of sole ownership. She contends that Goldwyn breached his lease by putting up buildings without first submitting plans to her.

Many of the biggest pictures of former years were made on the United Artists lot. Among the best known were the late Douglas Fairbanks' "Thief of Bagdad" and "Robin Hood."

It was indicated that the studio would be sold at auction if Goldwyn wins his partition demand.

Slaying Of Missionary A Mistake

3 Suspects Held; Target Was Speaker

SEOUL—(INS)—Korean authorities reported today that three suspects have been taken in custody for intensive grilling in the murder of Mrs. Ethel Underwood, 60, an American missionary in Seoul.

Korean police and America occupation officers were also questioning the Underwoods' houseboy and the guests at the tea party during which the missionary was fatally shot, in the hope of finding clues leading to the identity of the two masked assassins, who fired the shots.

A widespread manhunt was under way.

Earlier South Korea's president expressed the belief that the murder was the work of Korean communists who intended to kill another woman.

Reds 'After' Poetess.

President Syngman Rhee flatly stated:

"The masked men went to the Underwood home intending to kill Miss Yoon Sook Mo, guest speaker at the tea. They killed Mrs. Underwood instead."

The president said communists had been "after" Miss Mo, a noted poetess, because she gave "valuable anti-communist information" to the United Nations commission for Korea and to the South Korean government.

The victim's grieving husband, Dr. Horace Underwood, president emeritus of Seoul's American-established Chosen Christian university said "We don't want to cast a bad reflection on the Korean people."

But he felt reasonably certain that the murder was done by communists.

Mrs. Underwood was shot down when she went to the front door of her home to investigate the sounds of a scuffle between a houseboy and one of the masked intruders.

Chadron Chamber Favoring LB 234

CHADRON, Neb.—(AP)—The Chadron chamber of commerce has passed a resolution favoring passage of LB 234 which would provide a 2 per cent retail sales and use tax in the state effective July 1.

The resolution, passed by a large majority, was in answer to Sen. William Herli's request for an expression of opinion from this district on the measure. Chamber of commerce members appeared agreed that Nebraska must seek a new source of revenue or forget a large percentage of worthy improvements which are before this session of the unicameral.

The chamber also appointed a committee to investigate commercial truckers complaints on the highway department's weight limit restrictions on northbound Nebraska highways, and make some recommendation for compromise between the highway department and truckers.

Real Estate Is Carrying Less Share Tax Load

... Than In 1940

Nebraska real estate carried a smaller share of the tax load in 1948 than it did before the war. State Tax Commissioner Philip K. Johnson said today.

Last year, he pointed out, only 62 per cent of the total assessment was on real property, while in 1940 real estate bore 76 per cent of the burden.

In his annual report to the governor, Johnson pointed out that last year's $178,095,561 increase in tangible property valuation was the largest in history. The total assessed valuation on tangible property in 1948 was $2,316,658,238.

Johnson listed three reasons for the increase. They were:

- (1) Inflation, (2) action by the 1947 legislature providing for full-time county assessors, and placing responsibility of accurate tax returns on the taxpayer, and (3) an increased appropriation for the tax commissioner's office so that field men could be hired to assist in making the assessment.

Potato Stocks Set New Record; Hatchery Figures Up

Movement Of Spuds Increases

Some Freezing Loss Reported

Stocks of merchantable potatoes held by growers and dealers in Nebraska totaled 2,650,000 bushels on March 1, the state-federal division of agricultural statistics reported Friday.

Movement of potatoes during January was curtailed by severe winter conditions, but the movement of potatoes since February 1 has been greater, the department said.

Total movement for January was 930,000 bushels, compared to 1,420,000 bushels in February.

National Stocks Lower.
Stocks on March 1 were the highest on record.

Some loss from freezing in cellars occurred in January and February.

Nationally, stock was smaller on March 1 than at the corresponding date in the past two years.

In the central states, March 1 stocks were 19 per cent smaller than a year earlier and 23 per cent below March 1, 1947.

In the west, however, stocks were almost twice as large as the abnormally low stocks held a year ago.

Manufacturing Worker Figure In State Down

... For '48 Period

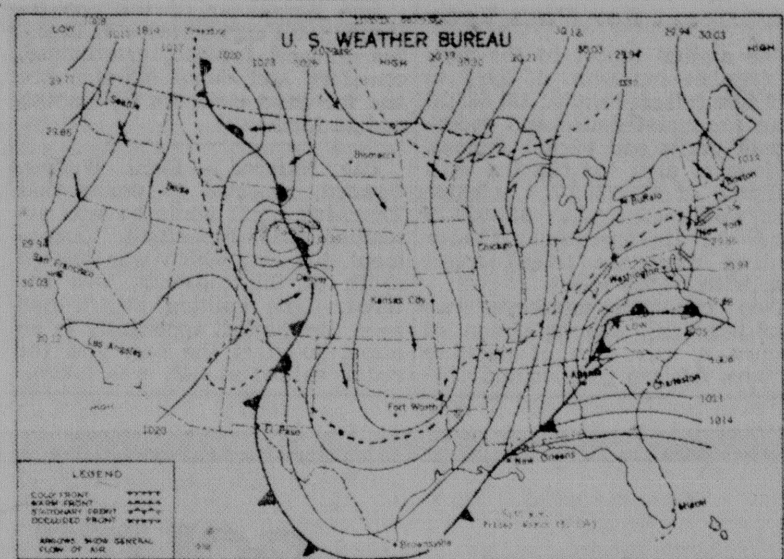

The number of persons employed in Nebraska manufacturing establishments dropped off 2,600 in the last six months of 1948, the employment security division reported Friday.

In July the agency reported 51,200 Nebraskans were employed in factories. By the end of December the number had shrunk to 48,600.

Meat Processing Down.
Of the decrease, about 1,000 had been employed in durable goods industry, and 1,600 in non-durable goods manufacturing.

Lower employment in meat processing was primarily responsible for the falling off in the non-durable goods division.

Bakery goods employment increased 200, while employment in printing and publications, paper, rubber and leather goods gained from 100 to 200 each during the period.

WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—The eastward movement of the disturbance from Texas and Oklahoma to North Carolina has been attended by rain in the south-central and southeastern states except the extreme southeast, with over 2 inches locally in southeastern Kentucky and 1 to 3 inches in central and northeastern Tennessee. Snow and rain fell in the area from the Ohio valley eastward, with mostly light to moderate snowfall, and moderate to locally heavy rains in Virginia. The continued inroads of air from the Pacific ocean was attended by rains from northern California northward with some locally heavy rains. A little light scattered snow fell in eastern Nebraska Thursday afternoon. The central ridge of high pressure and cold air mass are attended by temperatures near zero in North Dakota and northern Minnesota early Friday morning, with temperatures ranging upward to near 32 in north-central Texas and northern Arkansas, and to the 50s on the south coast of Texas.

Goodwill Train Cargo Was Worth Million Dollars

Over a quarter of a million dollars in cash and grain was contributed to CROP by Nebraska farmers and townspeople for the goodwill train which left Lincoln Dec. 20, the state committee announced today.

Cash contributions were $95,422.72 and grain, largely corn and wheat in about equal value, totaled $163,492.50.

Dwight Dell, state director of CROP, announced that on a per capita basis Deuel, Banner and Kimball counties ranked highest although Gage county, which donated over $14,000, had the largest total figure.

Freight Costs $23,000.
Freight paid on Nebraska contributions totaled $23,000 to the seaport, Ervin Schulz, national director of CROP, said. He pointed out that the Marshall plan, ECA, counts church relief of such significance that it pays overseas freight. Administrative costs will be between 6 and 8 per cent, Mr. Schulz said.

The committee voted to recommend to participating church groups that another program of shipping a train load of food be planned for 1949 and asked appointment of representatives to the state CROP committee by church and farm organizations.

State CROP chairman, Rev. I. C. Heinicke, Seward, presided. In attendance were representatives of Catholic and Lutheran groups and the Nebraska council of churches.

Baby Chick Output 17% Above 1948

Hen, Pullet Number Down

Commercial hatchery production of baby chicks in Nebraska during February totaled 2,400,000 chicks, compared to 2,200,000 for February, 1948, the state-federal division of agricultural statistics said Friday.

The hatch for the first two months of the year was 3,050,000, or 17 per cent greater than in the corresponding period last year.

"A greatly improved egg-feed ratio has caused an increased demand for baby chicks," the department said.

Replacement Purchases.

A large percentage of the chicks are being purchased for farm flock replacement and some purchases are being made for Nebraska's newly developed commercial broiler industry, according to the report.

Hens and pullets of laying age on Nebraska farms in February were estimated at 11,701,000, about eight per cent less than a year ago.

Nationally, the number of chicks hatched during February was the highest on record.

All sections of the country reported substantial increases in the number of chicks hatched.

The nation's farm flocks averaged 367,069,000 layers in February, three per cent less than February last year.

Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, committee chairman, arranged for the Missouri meeting before leaving for Washington to become chief of army engineers. He plans to attend the meeting.

F. B. Slichter, committee secretary, said today progress reports on the comprehensive Missouri river development program, to be given at the day-long meeting, will include:

Goodrich Gets Fees Of Jury Plus Freedom

Acquitted Of Taking Tekamah Girl From Home

TEKAMAH, Neb. — (AP) — The jury did more than set 18-year-old Dale Goodrich free. It gave him the money to return to his home in Vancouver, Wash.

Goodrich was acquitted in District court here Wednesday of a charge of taking 12-year-old Shirley Knudsen from her home without her parents' consent.

But Goodrich had only seven cents left out of $60 he had when he entered the county jail.

When the all-male jury learned that, Judge Frank Dineen of Omaha related, they promptly ordered their own fees turned over to young Goodrich.

Judge Dineen didn't know exactly what the fees totaled, but he thought it was probably enough to buy Goodrich a bus ticket home.

Carnival Worker.
Shirley Knudsen, then 11 years old, disappeared from her home after a carnival played Tekamah last July 4. Goodrich and his brother, William, 35, both were employed by the carnival company.

Nearly a month later she was found at Bingen, Wash., in the company of William Goodrich and an older woman. She told authorities she had been lured away from home and then when she decided she did not want to make the trip to Washington, she was forced to continue.

The Goodrich brothers were arrested and charged in a federal warrant with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. William escaped custody at Stevenson, Wash., and still is at large. Dale was returned to Tekamah and tried under Nebraska statutes.

OMAHA — (AP) — A Pennsylvania industrialist said today he sees no signs of a depression.

In fact, J. Belmont Mosser of St. Marys, Pa., president of Kiwanis International, told a news conference he was optimistic about the future.

During the last six weeks, Mosser said he had visited all plants of the country and had observed nothing which would cause him to be pessimistic about the future.

"Slight Leveling Off."
"I admit," he said, "there is a slight leveling off, but there are no signs of a recession or depression. Some of the biggest men I contacted were not a bit pessimistic."

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Following is the text of the historic north Atlantic treaty binding its signatories into an all-for-one alliance in case of attack:

PREAMBLE:

The parties to this treaty reaffirm their faith in the purposes and principles of the charter of the United Nations and their desire to live in peace with all peoples and all governments.

They are determined to safeguard the freedom, common heritage and civilization of their peoples, founded on the principles of democracy, individual liberty and the rule of law.

They seek to promote stability and well-being in the north Atlantic area.

They are resolved to unite their efforts for collective defense and for the preservation of peace and security.

They therefore agree to this north Atlantic treaty:

ARTICLE 1:

The parties undertake, as set forth in the charter of the United Nations, to settle any international disputes in which they may be involved by peaceful means in such a manner that international peace and security, and justice, are not endangered, and to refrain in their international relations from the threat or use of force in any manner inconsistent with the purposes of the United Nations.

ARTICLE 2:

The parties will contribute toward the further development of peaceful and friendly international relations by strengthening their free institutions, by bringing about a better understanding of the principles upon which these institutions are founded, and by promoting conditions of stability and well-being. They will seek to eliminate conflict in their international economic policies and will encourage economic collaboration between any or all of them.

ARTICLE 3:

In order more effectively to achieve the objectives of this treaty, the parties, separately and jointly, by means of continuous and effective self-help and mutual aid, will maintain and develop their individual and collective capacity to resist armed attack.

ARTICLE 4:

The parties will consult together whenever, in the opinion of any of them, the territorial integrity, political independence or the security of any of the parties is threatened.

ARTICLE 5:

The parties agree that an armed attack against one or more of them in Europe or North America shall be considered an attack against them all; and consequently they agree that, if such an armed attack occurs, each of them, in exercise of the right of individual or collective self-defense recognized by Article 51 of the charter of the United Nations, will assist the party or parties so attacked by taking forthwith, individually and in concert with the other parties, such action as it deems necessary, including the use of armed force, to restore and maintain the security of the north Atlantic area.

Any such armed attack and all measures taken as a result thereof shall immediately be reported to the security council. Such measures shall be terminated when the security council has taken the measures necessary to restore and maintain international peace and security.

ARTICLE 6:

For the purpose of Article 5 an armed attack on one or more of the parties is deemed to include an armed attack on the territory of any of the parties in Europe or North America, on the Algerian departments of France, on the occupation forces of any party in Europe, on the islands under the jurisdiction of any party in the north Atlantic area north of the Tropic of Cancer or on the vessels or aircraft in this area of any of the parties.

ARTICLE 7:

This treaty does not affect, and shall not be interpreted as affecting, in any way the rights and obligations under the charter of the parties which are members of the United Nations, or the primary responsibility of the security council for the maintenance of international peace and security.

ARTICLE 8:

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

in both places—in the mud for the last two years. Little do Victor Anderson and our honorable legislators know about roads outside Lincoln in either direction. I'm extending to Mr. Anderson, Governor Peterson and the other legislators an invitation to come to my place, or my neighbors', from any direction—four miles west of Agnew, two north and back east one mile and on to Valparaiso. I'll give them the best steak dinner ever if they make it by car in the next two weeks.

No organization is backing me—I'm sending a personal invitation. During the war Nebraska had money but no men; now it's no money.

I've never received any gas tax refund. It doesn't pay—so much red tape proving gas was burned in tractors. My tractor is only on roads to get from one field to another. The state law is any vehicle on highways after sundown has to have lights; I think you'll find all farmers use the fields to run their tractors. Ask our mailman how many times he has been stuck or broken down, how many times he has walked, and not on sidewalks or pavement—just old clay and snow. Who is buying gas when the speedometer shows nine miles for one mile of driving your car or truck? I've torn the rear end out of my truck, worn out chains galore trying to get my farm products to market. They are my living and must pay my expenses. I've burned the motor out of my car trying to get my boys and the neighbor's boys to school. We drive 12 miles, lately 22 miles round trip, to get to a school four miles from home! We leave the car one mile from home on the gravel. Our roads have been blocked since Nov. 18. The neighbors and I had grain and stock ready to market in December. We've still got it. One year ago a county commissioner or a county engineer came out and promised a group of 25 men a road that would help us when it thawed. It never thawed. Various neighbors and I have gone in to see the county commissioners 15 times during the year. Mr. Kuhner was the only man there. But when the tax time comes we have to pay without excuse or our names in the paper. Please accept my invitation.

FARMER WITHOUT A ROAD.

Ballroom Bill

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A bill to exempt ballrooms and dance halls from excise taxes on food and refreshment sales which are incidental to the "primary business" of providing music and dancing space has been introduced by Rep. Curtis (R-Neb).

MERRY-GO-ROUND

telephone network of his fellow Irishmen, he discovered, among other things, an apparatus for listening to private conversations without even using wires. All you had to do was sit in an automobile several hundred feet away from a conversation and listen by means of a newfangled radio eavesdropper.

Interesting fact is that in 1944 when this column told how certain War Production board officials had used such a device to eavesdrop on a conversation by Bernie Baruch, Bob Patterson and others in the home of James Forrestal, Charlie Wilson of General Electric emphatically claimed that such device could exist (Wonder who was telling the truth?)

Anyway, there may be a lesson for congress in all this New York money-business. A bill is now before congress permitting more wire tapping rather than less. It would permit even wire-tapped phone conversations to be used as evidence in court. Maybe congress will take a tip from the New York mess and curtail wire tapping rather than expand it. Vacuum Cleaner Stolen—Mrs. Cecil Merritt, 1227 J, reported to police the theft of a vacuum cleaner valued at $15 from the laundry room in the basement at that address.

List City Park Expenditures

At $91,385.70

... For Past Year

The annual report of the park department for Sept. 1, 1947 to 1948 just released shows $91,385.70 spent for maintenance and operation of parks and park buildings. Pioneers park led the list with a figure of $39,788.87. Antelope park was second with $21,929.12 spent for its operation. Flower gardens were the third largest item with $8,039 spent. Two capuchin monkeys, two blue peacocks, one collection of finches, a pair each of paradise wydahs, African guineas and Chinese mandarin ducks were added to Antelope park zoo at a cost of $209.13. Two gas heaters costing $302 each were installed at the zoo.

The remainder of the department's total expenditures of $145,946.70 went for zoo, greenhouse, cemetery and dump maintenance and for band concerts, ice skating and so forth.

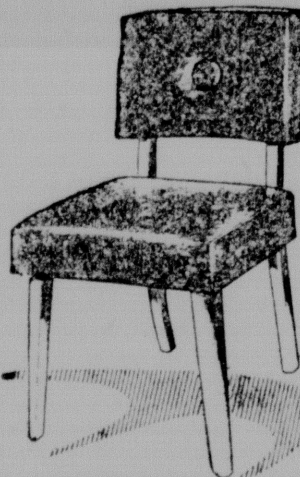

Car Entered—Cecil Walker, Seward, reported to police that Thursday night while he was attending the basketball tournament, his car, which was parked south of the coliseum, was entered. The ignition switch had been dismantled, apparently in an effort to start the car, and the radio, valued at $40, was taken.

Traffic Plan

OMAHA—(AP)—Omaha business men have been urged to support a plan to ease the city's downtown traffic problem. Chairman E. F. Pettis of the Omaha parking committee told a group of business leaders Thursday that the plan would provide eight off-street parking terminals by 1965. It also calls for the improvement of a network of major traffic streets.

Death's Bright Angel

by ARCHIE JOSCELYN

Chapter 28.

Rivers looked about the room, still groggy from sleep and the effects of the drug which had induced it, his mind confused by this bewildered news. Louisiana American! That was startling, but welcome.

Right now, his own predicament required his full attention. This was not a big room, but it had a lofty ceiling, and there was an odd feature about it—as though it might have been expressly designed by Don Fernando for some such event as now was impending.

Twice as high as a man's head was a platform built out from the wall, a square about six feet in size, with a railing about it and a door behind. Now the unpleasantly smiling face of Martinez peered over, while he gestured with a pistol.

"Hah! It is the Senor Rivers! And so we meet again! Allow me to wish you the best of luck, Senor, with the blade—for it will then give me much pleasure to finish you with the bullet!"

The main door opened to admit Bashan, who came swaggering in, carrying his unsheathed sword. He paused, eyes fixed on Rivers, triumph burning in them.

"Ah!" he exclaimed. "This time, it will be to the finish—your finish! Are you ready?"

Not waiting for an answer, he advanced, big blade at the ready. There was nothing to do but meet him. His wound appeared to be so far healed as not to trouble him.

It was the stimulus which Rivers needed. His head was clearing. The room was windowless, the light coming down from above.

Sponsored by the Lincoln Council of Social Agencies, the series of training meetings was directed by Miss Teresa McKenna, director of the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. O. L. Webb, president of the Lincoln Council of Social Agencies, presided at the final meeting.

Wherry, Butler Asked To Support T-H Law Repeal

Nebraska's two republican senators, Kenneth S. Wherry, Pawnee City, and Hugh Butler, Omaha, will be asked to change their stand against repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

The request will be sent to their offices in the form of petitions which are now being circulated throughout Lincoln by Typographical union No. 209.

Both senators, who voted for the law, are being sent the petitions which state:

"Your support asked for repeal of Taft-Hartley law. The record of Nebraska labor does not warrant the restrictions imposed by the law, and we ask your support in removing it."

Guard Hangar Improvement Is Authorized

... By Washington

Improvement of one of four remaining hangars at Municipal airport to take the place of a hangar destroyed in the recent $1,000,000 fire at the air base has been authorized by the Washington office of the national guard bureau's air force section. Announcement was made by Brig. Gen. Guy N. Henninger, state adjutant general. Gen. Henninger said the first step will be to make an estimate of cost of needed improvements by the U. S. district engineer's office in Omaha. An architect and

EXTRA FLAVOR! EXTRA SAVING!

You no longer need to look around for bargain coffees to save money. If you are fussy about good coffee and have a smart eye for values... be coffee-wise...look for Nob Hill...at SAFEWAY

NOB HILL IS COSTLY COFFEE TO BEGIN WITH

No finer blend of coffee exists today than you find in a Nob Hill bag. It's your kind of coffee. The quality you are accustomed to. The flavor you always buy in a vacuum tin or glass jar. But Nob Hill comes to you in the whole bean! That's the whole secret!

HERE'S WHY NOB HILL IS THE FRESHEST COFFEE IN TOWN

- 1 World's finest coffee beans roasted daily (but not ground) in a modern plant only a few hours distant from you.
- 2 Then (still in the whole bean) rushed roaster-fresh to your SAFEWAY Store.
- 3 Finally ground to your order, and not a moment before.

That releases for the first time all the fresh flavor of a truly fine coffee. Till then, that flavor had been locked in those whole coffee beans. So an expensive vacuum package is not necessary.

Solons Pass Four Bills

... 4 Others Advanced

Four bills were passed on final reading by the legislature Thursday.

LB 158, provides a basis for apportionment of estate taxes.

LB 304, provides for care of tubercular patients in county hospitals when capacity is reached at the state hospital.

LB 329, provides the method for county courts paying condemnation awards into the general fund.

LB 140, permits stockholders in co-operative credit associations to be notaries.

On general file LB 370, to provide for financing additions to county hospitals was advanced, as was LB 252 on methods of collecting expense of examining insurance companies. LB 332, provides for form of pre-marital examination.

Opposition To Estate Bill.
Opposition arose to the advancement of LB 282, which doubles the fee to executors of estates above $5,000. Sen. Willard Wilson led the opposition contending that the executor usually only signs papers prepared by attorneys. He said courts are empowered to pay for additional services.

Sens. McKnight and Davies contended that Nebraska is far below other states in the amount paid for this service. Wilson retorted that it was a trust company bill and would be of little aid to others. It was finally advanced by voice vote.

The legislature spent the balance of the morning considering additional sections of LB 1, which codifies state school laws.

Cab Drivers Ask Industrial Court To Settle Dispute

A cab drivers union has petitioned the state court of industrial relations to settle an industrial dispute allegedly existing between the union and two Grand Island cab companies.

The petitioner is Local No. 784, Truck Drivers and Helpers union (AFL). The defendant corporations are the Yellow Cab company of Grand Island, Neb., Inc., and City Cab and Transit Company, Inc.

Hearing Saturday.
Hearing has been set for Saturday, March 19.

The union charged the companies have refused to recognize it, and to bargain collectively.

It also alleged that the firms discharged three employees for union activities, and locked out the remainder because they had become affiliated with the union.

The union said it represented 95 per cent of the two companies' employees.

Omaha Firms File

Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state by Metal Mit Incorporated.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers. Left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Wedding Of Early March

MRS. ROBERT KOPKE.

At a double ring ceremony solemnized Sunday afternoon, March 6, at Grace Methodist church, Miss Jean Marie Axe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Axe, became the bride of Robert L. Kopke, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Kopke of Gresham. Arrangements of white and pink gladioli and greenery in pedestal baskets, and lighted candles in branched candelabra, decorated the altar for the service, the lines of which were read by the Rev. R. A. Trowbridge.

As the one hundred fifty guests assembled, Miss Fay Scattergood of Eagle, cousin of the bride, sang "I Love Thee," and "Because," and James R. Johnston sang, "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Ray Young, organist. Mr. Young also played the wedding music, and lighting the candles were Miss Delores Scattergood of Eagle, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. James McCoy, who wore frocks of pastel pink taffeta.

Mrs. Don H. Axe was the matron of honor and wore a gown of ice blue taffeta designed with a fitted bodice and flared skirt. Wearing a similar frock of petal pink taffeta was the junior bridesmaid, Miss Janet Axe, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Esther Mae Kopke and Miss Mildred Kopke of Gresham, sisters of the bridegroom, frocked in pastel blue taffeta, and Miss Shirlee Baker, Shenandoah, Iowa, cousin of the bride, wearing pink taffeta. The attendants completed their costumes with mitts and hats of lace in shades to match their gowns, and carried colonial bouquets of pastel-toned blossoms.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a period gown of white satin. The high rounded yoke of net was framed by a drop-shoulder band of the satin shirred at intervals in the puffed effect, and long fitted sleeves completed the bodice. The full skirt tapered into a train, and a cap of satin held her finger tip veil of illusion. Her empire bouquet was fashioned of pink camellias and gardenias, and she wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Edwin E. Kopke of Rising City, served his nephew as best man, and the ushers were Don H. Axe, brother of the bride, Charles Stromberg and Arnold Higgins.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the west vestry of the church. Among those assisting at the reception were Mrs. Charles Scattergood, Mrs. Edward Porter of Eagle, Mrs. L. S. Baker, Shenandoah, Iowa, Mrs. Bessie Henderson, Mrs. Freida Llewellyn, Mrs. C. W. Neal, Miss Margaret Olson, Miss Phyllis Petersen, Miss Nellie Grove and Miss Ethel Carne.

Mr. Kopke and his bride left for a wedding trip to Chicago and will make their home at 2942 North Fifty-first street in Lincoln. Mrs. Kopke wore for traveling a crepe frock in the powder blue tane with navy blue accessories and a corsage of camellias.

Marriage Solemnized In February

The marriage of Miss Evelyn Luers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Luers of Martel, to Lee C. Spilker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Spilker of DeWitt, took place on Sunday afternoon, February 27, at the Trinity Lutheran church. The Rev. J. G. Jacobsen read the lines of the 5 o'clock service before a background of lighted candles, greenery and floral arrangements. The wedding music was played by O. H. Sunderman, organist. Mr. Sunderman also accompanied Mrs. Robert Oldfield, who sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer," preceding the ceremony.

Mrs. Louis Totten of DeWitt, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. Her frock was of pink organdy, and her bouquet was fashioned of blue carnations tied with blue satin ribbon. The bridesmaids were Miss May Spilker of DeWitt, also a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss LaVerne Omarthammer of Lincoln, both in blue organdy, and both carrying pink carnations tied with pink satin. Each of the attendants wore a necklace of pearls, gifts of the bride, tinted to match her frock.

John Luers, brother of the bride, and Henry Kohlmann, Jr., lighted the candles. Ronnie Hahn carried the ring, and the flower girl was Kathryn Spilker, whose long-skirted frock was of pink organdy.

Frisco '5', Loyola Top NIT Foes

... Play Saturday

BY WILL GRIMSLEY.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The championship in the National Invitation basketball tournament probably will swing Saturday night on the individual duel between Chicago Loyola's Jack Kerris and San Francisco's Don Lofgran.

The Loyolas and the Dandy Dons from the Pacific coast, dark horses of the blackest hue, rolled into the title round Thursday night at Madison Square Garden on the superb play of these two athletes. Loyola, the "racing club" team that got in on a second-choice bid, subdued Bradley university's fire engine kids, 55-50. San Francisco turned back the favored beanstalks from Bowling Green (Ohio), 49-39.

To the sellout crowd of 18,301 which watched these semifinals, it was evident there have been few teams so dependent on single key men as the victors.

Kerris is a well-muscled youngster of six-feet-six, whose 64 points leads the tournament's individual scorers.

For the first half Thursday night he was completely shackled by Bradley's tight zone defense. And it had moved six minutes and 50 seconds into the second half before he hit for the first time from the field.

At this point, Loyola was fighting what seemed a hopeless uphill battle after trailing by nine points, 32-22, at intermission. But Kerris, aided by his team's tactical maneuver of midcourt stalling, that opened Bradley's defense, started hitting late in the game.

He poured in 14 points in the last half, adding to a single point in the first, to lead his mates to victory.

Lofgran is a willowy six-foot-six symphony of grace from Oakland, Calif., with an uncanny push-out. From almost any angle and with either hand he lays the ball gently in the basket with few misses. He scored 10 goals from the field against Bowling Green and added four free throws for 24 points. His tournament total is 55.

Apples Help Athletes Go To University

... Tourney Sidelights

BY BOB BERSHIRE.

Spectators and participants to the state basketball tourney can hardly miss the vendors of pop corn, ice cream, apples, pop and candy bars.

Also it isn't long before they realize that the sellers of these necessities of basketball are athletes at the University of Nebraska.

Bearing a big white N or a 1952 on their scarlet sweater, these boys are taking advantage of an opportunity to help earn their way through school.

The concession is handled by the University of Nebraska athletic department and all profits go to the boys that sell the concessions.

While the day is past when fabulous fortunes could be made "selling" at the state tourney, the boys are able to make between $5 to $15 in a good afternoon.

This is a moderate reward for the long hours they spend practicing their sport while they could be working at a paying job.

Two of the most familiar sellers to regular patrons of the coliseum are Jack Hazen and Turkey Esref Aydin.

Hazen's Husker football activity dates back to the Rose Bowl era, and his selling activity dates before that. Hazen is a little partial to the popcorn trade.

While the Tireless Turk is a little newer to the business than Hazen, he has made a distinct impression on the fans during the past two years. The Turk favors apples as his source of income.

Many workers are needed behind the scenes at the State Basketball tournament to make it proceed in an orderly manner as possible.

Two of those who help with the tourney are A. J. Lewandowski, business manager of athletics for the university, and L. F. Klein, assistant to Athletic Director Patsy Clark.

Lewandowski helps handle the ticket sales and Pop Klein is always in the athletic office to aid players and coaches with information and advice.

Many others are needed on the sidelines of the games to help them run smoothly and fairly.

Ralph Beechner, director of athletics at Lincoln high and announcer at all the Nebraska and Lincoln high basketball games, is announcing over the loudspeaker system.

Next to him is Ed Higgenbotham, official "timekeeper." "Hig" now with the physical education department of the university is an ex-Husker swim coach.

He also is the official starter for the state high school track meet and all of the university's home track meets.

Dick Hutton, All-Big Seven halfback and top scorer on Ed Weir's indoor track team, is helping Higgenbotham with the clock.

Another familiar face is that of O. L. Webb—the man who engineers this big show.

Webb is usually seen on the sidelines of the football game, either because he hates to fight the crowds that are watching the big schools or he gets more enjoyment out of watching the smaller schools play.

At this time the fans begin to wonder where the outstanding players of the tourney will go to school when they graduate.

One player that Harry Good probably has his eyes on is Jack Cannon of Creighton Prep. The sharp-shooting Blue Jay turned in an outstanding performance Thursday and stamped himself as the type of player that would step into Harry Good's system.

Bill Glassford, Harry Good, Ed Weir and Tony Sharpe probably all have their eyes on "Grand Island's" Bobby Reynolds, and wonder what sport or sports he will pursue when he goes to college.

All of the members of Lincoln High's squad are seniors except Substitute Ben Martin; but no one will bet that Lyle Weyand will find a losing team next year and fewer will bet that Lincoln won't earn a state cage tourney berth. Most of the Lincoln players are expected to enroll at the University of Nebraska.

Detroit Enters First Valley Schedule Session

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — Missouri Valley conference basketball coaches will set league schedules for the next two seasons during a two-day meeting starting today.

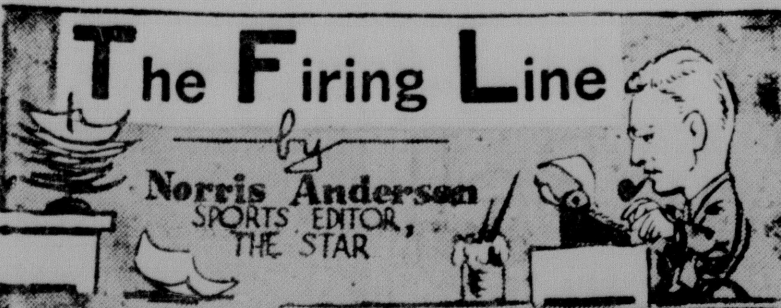

Detroit university, voted into the loop a year ago, will play a regular conference schedule for the first time next season.

Artie Eilers of St. Louis, the Missouri Valley commissioner, is presiding at the two-day session.

College View's basketball Coach Emory Priefert announced that twelve members of his Eastern Nebraska six conference championship team were awarded letters, Thursday.

Those lettering are seniors Dick Barnes, Earl Elliott, Norman Vermaas, Lloyd Priess, Bob Forney, Verlan Rumbaugh, Don Smith and Eugene Smith; juniors,

Retherford Paces All Big 7 Club

Whitehead On 2nd Team: Courty Only Repeater

By SKIPPER PATRICK.

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — Rick Harman, Kansas State forward, and Nebraska's Claude Retherford, guard, were unanimous choices for the Associated Press' Big Seven conference all-star basketball team for 1949.

Harman, a 6-foot, 3-inch rebounding specialist, made Kansas State the toughest team in the home stretch of the season. He averaged 11.4 points a game in conference play.

Retherford, 6-2 guard of Nebraska's Cornhuskers, who shared the Big Seven crown with Oklahoma, led the league in scoring with a 12.4 average in a dozen games.

COACHES HELP.

The coaches and writers who co-operated in naming the all-star teams also favored Wayne Glasgow and Paul Courty, of Oklahoma, and Center Robert Rolander of Colorado.

Glasgow, a big sophomore, averaged 11 points for the Sooners and was a tower of defense, usually drawing the opposing team's toughest offensive man.

Courty, a senior, and the only repeater from the 1948 all-stars, was perhaps the league's best clutch player. Normally a forward, Courty won a guard slot in the all-star lineup.

CERV MENTIONED.

Rolander, a 6-foot, 5-inch junior, had an average of slightly under 10 points a game against league foes. He was an excellent defender on a second-division club.

Among the boys who were nosed off the first team were Bob Petersen, peewee guard of Iowa State, and Claude Houchin, Kansas' tall guard.

First Team: Harman, K. S.; Retherford, Neb.; Glasgow, Okla.; Petersen, Ia. State; Rolander, Colo.; Courty, Okla.; Houchin, Kan.; Cerv, Ia. State. Second Team: Harman, K. S.; Petersen, Ia. State; Glasgow, Okla.; Krone, Kas. State; Rolander, Colo.; Whitehead, Neb.; Courty, Okla.; G. Pierpont, Missouri; Houchin, Kan.; Cerv, Ia. State; Don Paulsen and Don Ferguson of Iowa State; Robert Cerv and Joe Maloney of Nebraska.

Friday night the Oakland quintet, which has lost but one game in 60 this season, takes on Peoria at 8 o'clock (CST). Phillips, 49-game winner with three losses, clashes with Seattle at 9:30.

Champion Group Promote Fights At Polo Grounds

NEW YORK — (AP) — Lee Oma comes back to Madison Square Garden Friday night, but boxing's prime news Friday still was the latest move by the Tournament of Champions (TOC) in its promotional war with the 20th Century Sporting Club.

The TOC announced Thursday it had signed a "long term contract" for the use of the Polo grounds, thus obtaining a site to promote outdoors championship bouts, such as a middleweight title bout between Champion Marcel Cerdan and possibly former Champion Tony Zale.

Terms of the lease were not disclosed, but David B. Charnay, TOC president, said it ran at least through 1950. The 20th Century, Mike Jacobs' organization, still holds a lease on the Yankee stadium through September 1950.

Oma, who gained heavyweight prominence during the war, is pitted against Cuban Heavyweight Omelio Agramonte. The match was substituted for the Ike Williams-Kid Gavilan bout, originally scheduled for Friday night, but postponed to April 1.

Oilers Favored To Take AAU

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) —

Four independent basketball teams, including the Champion Phillips Oilers and the challenging Oakland Bittners, go after title round spots tonight in the 42nd annual National A.A.U. tournament.

The last of eight college teams to play in the meet—Oklahoma City university—went out Thursday night, beaten by the Peoria Caterpillars after a bitter battle, 43-40.

The other semi-finalist is the Seattle Alpines, surprisingly decisive 57-44 winner over the Denver Chevrolets, who finished second behind the Oilers in the National industrial league this season.

Both Phillips and the Bittners had quarter-final walkaways. The Oilers, burning up the nets with a 34 per cent hitting performance, toyed with the Los Angeles Police for a 75-38 triumph. Oakland had no more trouble in manhandling another Los Angeles team, the Cliftons, 62-48.

Friday night the Oakland quintet, which has lost but one game in 60 this season, takes on Peoria at 8 o'clock (CST). Phillips, 49-game winner with three losses, clashes with Seattle at 9:30.

RED & BLACK MUFFLES OMAHA NORTH: ROCKETS ELIMINATE JAYS, 41 TO 39

BY GEORGE MILLER.
(Star Sports Staff Member)

BOTH Lincoln representatives and two delegates from the east division of the Big Ten conference will assemble at the semi-final field in Class A following first round state tournament activity Thursday at the coliseum.

Northeast eliminated Creighton Prep, 41-39, in a hair-raising afternoon contest. Lincoln kept Capital City supremacy alive with a comfortable 46-36 victory over Omaha North in the evening opener.

Grand Island gave notice of continuing to be a factor by whipping Scottsbluff, 43-27, with ease. Hastings completed the round of four with a 44-37 conquest of North Platte.

Thursday's results left the semi-final field composed solely of entrants from the Beatrice and Norfolk regionals.

NOT EXCITED. Lincoln High's unfringed long range game was enough to counteract an Omaha North height advantage in the first evening game.

The Links were ahead all the way in taking their 18th win in 19 games this season.

North's heralded Ron Roeder failed to aid the Viking scoring cause until late in the last quarter. He finished second to Forward Dan Hartman in point-making.

Hartman, unsung stringbean, nailed 14 points to eight for Roeder.

Joe Good turned in one of his best performances as he guided the Links to a semi-final berth. He started the scoring with a long shot one minute and 15 seconds after play began.

Gus Lebsack was left unguarded at his favorite spot by North defenders. He took advantage of the oversight to score five fielders during the first half.

Lincoln held an 11-5 margin with eight minutes gone. By halftime the Links had built this to a 25-17 lead.

North chances sank from sight in the third period. The Vikes could score only one from the field while Lincoln pumped its margin to 38-23.

BATTEY LEADS. Chick Battey hit five points in quick order at the start of the second half to push his team well ahead of the Omaha regional winners.

North outscored Lincoln 13 to eight in the closing frame but no Viking surge could frighten the tourney-hardened Lincoln veterans. Composure at the start helped the Links while North was finding its true stride.

Except for a few breakaway drives by Good, Battey and Jones, Lincoln never attempted to work the ball through the North defense. With marksmen like Good and Lebsack on the beam from outside, no further exertion was needed.

Alert defensive work and deliberate shooting was the winning combination for Northeast over Creighton Prep.

The Rockets were able to preserve a precarious lead through all but the first minute of the second half. John Neiderhaus and Jack Woods did admirably in clearing the Northeast backboard most of the time.

BALL CONTROL. Ball control tactics under command of Scottie Willoughby and Woods enabled the Rockets to make good use of the shooting ability of Center Paul Fredstrom and Forward Ron Butler.

The sophomore center netted 11 points on three fielders and five free throws after starting in jittery fashion.

Butler's two second half buckets helped overcome Prep's 23-18 halftime lead.

Any awarding of laurels must include Prep's Jack Cannon. The hard-driving forward scored 10 points, including the longest shot in memory of veteran tourney-goers.

Cannon was about four feet behind the center line when he let fly a desperation heave with five seconds to play. The shot was good but Northeast still held a two-point margin.

The Rockets opened the eventual

Prep, in the meantime, could score only a rebound by the omnipresent Cannon. The same Junior Jay increased the pressure with a pair of free throws that narrowed the NE lead to 39-35.

PUCELIK INTERFERES. When Tom Pucelik interrupted the Rockets start with a field goal, the coliseum throng was on its feet to cheer.

Forty seconds remained as Pucelik, tallest of the Preppers at 6-1, dumped in his fourth basket.

After refusing three free shots, the Rockets worked Fredstrom loose for an unguarded crippler. He connected only to watch Cannon's last-second left sac. true just before Northeast went ahead to stay.

Creighton Prep led by its greatest margin just before the half. Three consecutive baskets gave the Omaha Intercity champs a 23-17 cushion.

Northeast swept aside the lead quickly. Woods hit once and Butler twice before the two minute mark.

After a torrid first quarter, defending champion Grand Island toned down its offense and coasted to a 43-27 win over Scottsbluff.

In so doing, the Third City club showed enough class to make it a threat for the third consecutive year.

Guard Bobby Reynolds had a fruitful first quarter in which he got eight points to send the Islanders to a commanding lead.

Reynolds finished the game with 16 points.

FIRST BASKET. Grand Island was ahead 16-0 before Paul Mohr could score a free throw for Scottsbluff with a minute and 50 seconds remaining in the first quarter.

In the second period the Islanders contracted some of the Scottsbluff scoring hesitation. Reynolds scored the only field goal that either team could muster. His two-point shot came a minute before halftime.

The Bearcats spurred mildly during the closing periods due to some accurate long range cannonading by Jim Abernathy. The lithe westerner piled up 14 points for the losing cause.

Scoring during the third quarter was almost even. Grand Island had a one-point bulge with 10 markers. Reserves received plenty of calls from Islander Coach Aub Givens.

Most of the Scottsbluff trouble could be discovered in the field goal column. Abernathy was the only Bearcat to score from the field.

Chuck Sticksels may not be the indispensable man in the Hastings starting five, but he will do until someone better comes along.

This fact was aptly demonstrated in the final evening battle as favored Hastings had to work 32 minutes to shake off an underdog North Platte outfit.

The Platters relied on pointers picked up during two regular season losses to Hastings in doing a fairly effective job of dampening the Tigers' offensive powder.

Sticksels had four personals early in the second quarter but kept his playing privilege during the entire contest.

Coach Roy Bassett had his ace playmaker on the bench during most of the middle two quarters. Without Sticksels, the Tigers faltered.

Connor fouled out in the fourth period.

North Platte pulled up to a respectable halftime figure, trailing only 20-13. This difference was a sharp change from the 13-3 margin Hastings carried during the first quarter.

Joe Martinez was the Platter spark. He netted six field goals, five from beyond the free throw circle, and added two free throws for high point honors.

GLENWOOD EINSPARR LEADS HILDRETH TO OVERWHELMING GAIN IN CLASS D

BY ALAN THOMPSON.
(Star Sports Staff Member)

WITH Hildreth's raging scoring machine blazing a favorite's path in the state tourney at the coliseum, Glenwood Einsparr led the team to advance into the semi-finals by dumping Garland, 64-36.

At the same time, Glenwood Einsparr scored 34 points for an all-time tourney record.

The Hildreth forward made 16 field goals, 11 of them in the second half. It was in the second quarter, however, that the winners began to roll.

Leading 10-7 after a slow opening period, Hildreth poured in 20 more points before halftime, while holding Garland to an additional four.

Garland's Paul Peterson led the chase through the second half, but his 17 points were to no avail. Third high point man was Del Bunker, tall Hildreth center, with a total of 16.

Hildreth's effective pressing defense was accountable for their wide margin as much as Einsparr's scoring spree.

McLean earned a semi-final pairing with Hildreth by downing Farwell, 40-32, in the second Class D contest on the freshman court Thursday afternoon.

The victory came only after McLean fought off a late surge by the losers that narrowed the margin to 32-31 as the final minutes ticked off.

Wendell Smith came through with two baskets to put McLean back in the clear, and boost his own total to 10 points. Team-mate Gene Johnson scored 17 to top point-makers on both squads.

WYSOCKI PACES. The Farwell offense was paced by Forward Gaylen Wysocki who netted 10 points.

The winners arrived at each stopping point with nearly the same lead they achieved during the first quarter, 13-7. The half ended 21-16, and the third quarter, 32-25.

Farwell's chances were hurt early in the game by being forced to pull tall Center Don Wolinski after he drew four fouls. Retaining in the second half he proved to be the fastest as Ulysses matched speed against Hyannis's height.

Both teams broke in for their shots, but the Longhorns weren't hitting. Tall Tom Stroud's 15 points would have been nearly doubled if he hadn't rimmed half his attempts.

George Prochaska worked well in the post for Ulysses, gaining 12 points for himself and feeding expertly to his teammates.

Top Ulysses scorer was Dennis Kornek with a total of 15. Leverage Lotspeich and George Warner each contributed six to Hyannis.

The losers came back from a 22-12 halftime score to narrow the margin to 27-23 before Ulysses began to move again.

In the third quarter the Longhorns moved as close as 33-30, but could make only one more bucket as Ulysses pulled away once more.

(Distributed by International News Service)
Beats all how a fellow could get so nicely tanned in Key West and Washington at the same time.

Harry's vacation is ending but John Lewis is taking another week working for a good burn to develop, and it will.

But it was nice of Old John to give his members two weeks rest before the spring strike season opens.

Mr. Lewis never goes near a beach on his vacation. . . . Some may like to play in the sand but he just likes to sit around and watch the coal pits dwindle.

Anyway Mr. Truman is flying to Washington to deal with congress and if necessary he will leave again soon by train.

There may be some who haven't heard the speech which begins "I am asking the congress to . . ."

It went big in Peoria.

The all-day recognition meeting was a part of a three-state leadership recognition program for rural homemakers. The recognition program, which is the third such annual affair, is sponsored by chambers of commerce in Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. ## 5 Municipal Bills Killed By Committee

Towns Air "Dirty Linen" To Senate Public Works Group

Thursday proved to be municipal washday at hearings of the public works committee of the legislature. "Dirty linen" of Fremont and Wilber was flaunted until it appeared the two bills were for their special benefit rather than explanation of the pros and cons of general legislation for the state.

Result: Five bills heard by the committee in a three hour session were all indefinitely postponed. They were LB 335, 377, 486, 489 and 477.

LB 335, introduced by Louis A. Holmes of Grand Island would change the number of objectors in a first class city who can prevent street improvements from a majority of the abutting property owners to owners of more than 50 per cent of the foot frontage of abutting property.

Fremont Problem. Sen. Holmes pointed out the possibility of division of ownership of one lot to many persons, all of whom would be counted on protests under the law. Thus, he said, the rule of many could defeat the desires of the owners of a majority of the property and the ones who would pay for the improvement.

C. E. Beals, secretary of the League of Municipalities, said the bill had been considered and endorsed by the organization's legislative committee. A. C. Sidner, Fremont attorney, said the present law was being used to handicap industrial development of Fremont.

Sen. L. Anderson, Aurora, formerly a resident of Fremont led the opposition and said the bill was introduced merely to aid Fremont obtain, paving on a certain street. He introduced an old friend O. W. Restriener, operator of the Fremont Molasses Co.

Restriener explained the local situation and charged that the paving desired was for the exclusive benefit of the Hormel Packing Co., located outside of the city.

He said owners of land on the road proposed to be paved could not afford the improvement. He was armed with maps to show the planned construction. Similar statements attacking the packing company were made by Leo Woodward of the molasses firm located on the proposed paving.

Wilber Case Cited. Sidner in closing said he was proposing a change in policy and had no intentions of bringing Fremont's problems to the legislature.

Sen. C. C. Lillibridge, Crete, was the introducer of LB 377 which would require a vote of the people for issuance of revenue bonds for the re-establishment or enlargement of an obsolete electric plant municipally owned. Arguments in its behalf were made by John Mekota, Crete attorney.

Here the problems of Wilber, which led to lawsuits carried up to the Supreme court, were retold by Mekota and E. B. Perry, attorney for the city council which was victorious in the court fight. They continued the battle in legal fashion.

Opposing the bill was Robert Perry, representing the League of Municipalities, who said the legislative committee found it "the poorest bill before the legislature." J. W. Kruse of the utilities section of the league also voiced opposition on behalf of 112 cities in that section.

"Lawsuit Language." John Jacobson, Lincoln city attorney, termed the bill written in "lawsuit language" and said it was designed to destroy municipal electric plants. M. L. Sievers, North Platte, also opposed.

Sen. Victor Anderson fared no better in his efforts to have controls placed on the liquified petroleum gas industry. A dealer in the gas himself, Sen. Anderson

Capehart Suggests Organization For Non-Talking Solons

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) told the senate that members who never do any talking ought to form an organization of their own.

"I think we quiet senators are being discriminated against," Capehart said last night. "I don't know how we're going to be re-elected because the folks at home don't know we are here."

The Indiana senator said he just hadn't been able to get the floor for three weeks.
The same senators who want a gag debate have been doing most of the talking, he remarked.
"How are we going to protect the senator who wants to sit and think?" Capehart asked plaintively. "How are we going to handle these windy fellows, we senators who want to see some legislation passed?"

Others members of the industry said the bill would "legislate the industry off the highway." Speakers included Kenneth Reichen, Grand Island; G. E. Switzer, representing the state association; Max Brown of the Cooperative Council and John Schmitt, 4480.
With LB 486, Sen. Anderson sought to make filling of cylinders with liquified gas without written consent of the owner a misdemeanor and subject to fine. He held that unscrupulous dealers could make such refilled cylinders a hazard.
John Schmitt, Wahoo, and G. E. Switzer, Beatrice, explained bookkeeping difficulties that would be encountered. The witnesses admitted that the bill chiefly would prevent dealers from filling the cylinders of competitors.
Sen. R. W. Hill beat the committee to the killing punch when he requested them to indefinitely postpone his LB 477 which would have provided the gallonage of motor fuels be determined by bills of lading rather than capacity of containers. This record would have been kept for the state department inspection.

Senators Say "No" To 5-Day Week For Nebraska Bankers

... 'Chain-store' Banking Bill Dies

"Bankers' hours" and "chain-store banking" received rough treatment at the hands of the legislature's banking committee Thursday.

Two bills—one allowing banks to keep a five-day week, the other permitting banks to establish offices in small towns—were killed unanimously by the committee.

A split in the Nebraska Bankers association brought about the indefinite postponement of LB 458, introduced by Sen. Cliff Ogden of Omaha. It would permit a bank stay closed any day of the week, besides Sunday and holidays.

Opposition Told. Chauncey E. Barney, Lincoln attorney representing the association, said a majority of the members of the group favored the bill in a poll, but that almost 100 voted against it.

He said 20 states now have similar legislation, and asked to give banks the same right to close that other businesses have.

Banks' public relations would be damaged by the measure, he said.

Superior Canal. SUPERIOR, Neb.—(AP)—Invitations for bids on construction of the first section of the Superior canal have been issued, the bureau of reclamation said today.

The section extends from the Superior-Courtland diversion dam, located two and a half miles west of Guide Rock, Neb., through Bostwick, Neb.

Under bureau plans, the canal will be 13 feet wide on the bottom and four feet deep at the upper end, and 12 feet wide on the bottom and three feet, 10 inches deep at Bostwick.

Bids for the second section of the Superior canal, which will extend from Bostwick to Hardy, Neb., will be advertised within the next few months, the bureau said.

The bureau said irrigation water can be delivered to 7,400 acres of land as soon as the Superior lateral system is constructed.

It was explained that the lateral system will deliver water from the Superior canal to the delivery point of the farmers' land. The Superior canal is the second large project to be undertaken since the signing of the reclamation contract with the Nebraska Bostwick Irrigation district.
